There was a consultation in room 127, of the Post-Office Building, the head-quarters of the local series service men, this morning between Chief Hazen and Lleut. Bagge, in charge of the Bureau here, regarding the escape of Dr. Bradford. There are so many features in the escape which resemble that of Killoran, Russell and Aller from Ludiow Street Jall, that Chief Hazen has determined to exact a strict accounting not only from Agents Colligan and Burns, but also from Mr. Bagge, who is really the responsible party. Meanwhile There Will Be a Rigid Investigation of the Ledger.

A grave had already been prepared and was pertly filled with quicklime. The coffin was draged out of the wagon by the four convicts and quickly lowered into the grave. When the convicts had shovelled in the earth the grave was marked with a number.

There are about eight murderers now buried in the prison cemetery.

This is the way three law students from Jersey look at the Barberi case:

To the Kelitor:

The case is singularly parallel to that of the famens case of Mary Harris tried in Washington, D. 47. In 1865. Mary Harris took the law into her own hands and killed one Burroughs, who betrayed her. She was fortunate in having eniment rounsel, Mr. Voorhees, besides having the sid and protection of Mrs. Abraham Lincoin. Her trial resulted in acquittal, in this connection, ethical resulted in acquittal, in this connection, atthough Maria Harberi has suffered conviction we quote the words of Mr. Voorhees in the case of Miss Harris: 'In the name of him, who showers his blessings on the merciful, who gave the promise to those who feed and clothe the hungry strangers at their gates, unlock the door—unlock the prison door, and bid her bathe her throbbing brow once more in the healing air of liberty?'
